Have 100 Percent Record in 20-School Sectional Fair at Huntley Saturday

Eighteen Future Farmers of Antioch Township High school showed 69 entries of poultry, eggs, corn, small grains and potatoes to bring back as many ribbons from the Sectional Future Farmers of America fair held Saturday at Huntley, Ill. Thirty-five were blue ribbons, 19 red and 15 white.

Most of the Antioch poultry entries were in the White Plymouth Rock classes. The outstanding young pen of White Rocks was shown by Robert January of the Antioch group. Blue ribbon eggs were displayed by Robert Kufalk.

Take All Potato Awards
The only two entries of potatoes to receive an "excellent" rating out of a large exhibit were both from Antioch.

Antioch youths who had entries in the fair, competing against lads from 19 other high schools, were as follows:

Peter Wolowic, Robert Edwards, Francis Wolowic, Alan Thain, Gaynor Larsen, Gordon Severson, Donald Irving, Richard Wells and Raymond Toft.

Boys who accompanied C. L. Kutil, vocational agriculture instructor, to the show were Benny Drury, Raymond Toft, Robert Kufalk, Kennedy Heuer, Francis Wolowic and James Crichton.

Lions Club Sets Dec. 27 as Date for Ladies' Night

Party for Members, Wives to Be Held at Kellogg's on State Line Road

The date of its annual "Ladies' Night," originally set by the Antioch Lions' club for some time in January, was advanced to Wednesday evening, Dec. 27, at a meeting held Monday evening in Charles A. Anderson's place, Highway 59.

According to annual custom, the party will be open to members, their wives and lady friends, and to the wives of members who are in the armed service.

Since Pregezer's resort, where the party was to have been held, will be closed, the event will instead take place at Kellogg's on State Line road.

E. J. Stetten, the new cashier of the First National bank, was introduced to the club members and gave a brief talk.

Atty. John Logan Boyles, who was also to have been a speaker, was unable to attend.

A total of $150, of which $100 was the personal gift of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Anderson and $25 that of Charles N. Ackerman, is being turned over by the club to the Lake County Mobile Tuberculosis unit, it was announced during the business session.

The club voted a $15 donation for the U. S. O. for January.

Eighteen were present for the 7 o'clock dinner.

Coast Guard Accepts Additional Enlistments

Seventeen-year old youths with a yen for seagoing and plenty of action once more have a chance to join the Coast Guard.

Qualification for enlistment in America's oldest seagoing service, now an integral part of invasion forces round the globe, include at least one year of high school, 20-30 uncorrected vision in each eye, and a minimum of 5 feet 4 inches in height.

The Chicago Recruiting office emphasizes, however, that only the best applicants are accepted for enlistment, since monthly quotas are limited. It urges young men not yet 18 to apply at an early date.

Applicants are interviewed at the U. S. Coast Guard Recruiting office, Room 215, 53 West Jackson Blvd., Chicago, and must present a birth certificate.

A. B. Ted W. Schmitz sent a model of a training plane from Columbus, Miss., to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith of Channel Lake. Ted has been in the service for about a year.

"Put Antioch Bond Drive 'Over Top'," Klass Urges

While purchases of war bonds and pledges to purchase them are increasing as the Dec. 16 deadline draws near, Antioch township is still far behind its quota, Chairman Otto S. Klass reported this week.

"The purchase of an additional war bond is the finest Christmas present we can give to our boys in the service," Klass said. "I can think of no more heartening news for those serving overseas than word that their home community is 'over the top' in its bond drive."

Persons who have not as yet been approached by committee workers are being asked by Klass to notify the nearest committee member of their pledge, or to make their purchases of bonds at either of the local banks.

Gifts for Yanks Being Taken to Service Hospitals

Boxes from Antioch Are Turned Over to 10th Dist. American Legion

Extending the time limit on its "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave" campaign from Dec. 9 through Dec. 13, the Antioch American Legion post and auxiliary reported last evening that Christmas boxes for hospitalized service men and service women had been contributed from this region.

Civic and social organizations as well as individuals cooperated in the drive, which was part of a national campaign to assure all hospitalized members of the service in this country of receiving at least one Christmas gift.

Collection centers included Williams' Department store, where a special window display was arranged, the Otto S. Klass store, Webb's Racket store, the Antioch 5 and 10 Cent store, Reeves' Drug store and King's Drug store in Antioch; B. J. Hooper's Pharmacy and Reinbach's in Lake Villa.

Pleased With Response

Roman B. Vos and John L. Horan, co-chairmen of local committees for the campaign, expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the splendid response here and in nearby townships.

Gift packages collected here and in other communities throughout the country are being allocated by the national American Legion to service hospitals in accordance with information received from them.

These collected here are being taken to the armory in Waukegan, where they are being placed under the charge of the Tenth District American Legion organization for distribution to service hospitals, including those at Great Lakes, Fort Sheridan and Downey, in time for the patients to receive them for Christmas.

Comes the Blizzard— and Village's Newly Purchased Plow Helps!

Antioch's new snow plow, forehandedly purchased by the village board last summer and mounted on a street department truck early in November, was initiated during the blizzard that piled drifts on streets and avenues Sunday and Monday.

With its help, Street Superintendent William Thiemann and Village Marshal Fred Peterson succeeded in keeping the streets clear in spite of the storm.

The new plow was described by them as a considerable improvement over the road scraper which had previously been used as a makeshift plow.

Snow Stalls Cars; Demand for Chains, Tow Trucks Booms

Blizzard Sunday, Monday Brings Aftermath of Stranded Motorists

The tire chain and tow truck business boomed in Antioch Monday as the blizzard that began early Sunday continued with increasing force, piling soggy snow on slippery roads as fast as highway crews, working round the clock, could plow them out.

By Monday noon every set of tire chains available in Antioch (about 100 in all, according to a survey of garages and stores) had been sold, and the demand was far from slackening.

Tow trucks were operating steadily throughout the day, extricating stalled passenger cars and trucks. Calls for tows continued unabated Tuesday morning as residents of the area set out to go to work in lake shore cities and found their way blocked by vehicles that had become stuck in drifts or ditches during the night.

Unable to go forward, and with their way to the rear blocked by cars that had followed them, many of them had to wait for some time until snow plows and tow trucks could clear away for them from one direction or the other. Some particularly bad traffic tangles were reported on Highway 173 just east of U. S. Highway 45, and also between Highways 41 and Zion.

Grand avenue remained fairly open, but reports of numerous stalled vehicles came from Silver Lake and other communities to the north.

While many cars were "ditched" or stuck, few appeared to be damaged and most were able to proceed under their own power once they were able to get underway.

The temperature, remaining just at or above the freezing point, helped to contribute to the bad condition of the roads, for the snow piled into soggy drifts and remained slippery underneath, affording little traction to tires or chains.

"Please Clear Snow From Around Mail Boxes" RFD Patrons Are Asked

"Rural patrons are invited to keep approaches to mail boxes clear of snow," Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk has requested.

Rural patrons of the Antioch post office are respectfully requested to keep approaches to mail boxes clear of snow. In doing this, considerable time and much energy is saved on the part of the rural carriers and would be very much appreciated by them. While the carriers are expected to make every effort to deliver all mail, they are not required to leave their vehicles to serve mail boxes, where patrons consistently fail to clear snow from approaches to mail boxes. Also mail service may be discontinued temporarily in such cases.

"Stamps must be attached to all mails by the mailers of all mailable matter by the sender and it is particularly essential that rural patrons attach stamps to their letters and cards at this time of year when carriers' fingers become numb with cold and many pennies are lost in the snow when patrons place coins in mail boxes for postage.

"Christmas greeting cards without personal messages may be sent unsealed at the rate of 1½ cents. These cards would have no forwarding or return privilege that they would have if 3 cents postage had been prepaid. Drop letters sealed and mailed in the village require 1 cent for each ounce. Rural letter mails are 3 cents per ounce."

Mrs. Luster Badger, who underwent a major operation at St. Theresa hospital, Waukegan, Dec. 2, is improving and is expected to return to her home at Lake Catherine within the next week.

The Observer

Did you hear the one about the couple, blessed with their first child, who didn't get to the hospital quickly enough and the baby was born on the hospital lawn? An itemized bill was finally received and the careful husband objected strenuously to the item: "Delivery Room, $2500." He returned the bill for revision. In due time it was returned with the item revised to read: "Green Fees, $25.00."

Up to Sunday when the blizzard started, the following, which failed to get into last week's paper, was a pretty good item:

"Are seasons reversed, with spring coming here and winter going south? Frank Runyard at Channel Lake would like to know, as last week one of his pet chipmunks came out of winter quarters to sit up and beg for eats. This was the first time in years that one of the little creatures had made such an unseasonal appearance, Runyard said."

We'll bet if he made any appearances early this week, he carried a snow shovel with him.

Maybe we should, too.

She leaves to mourn her loss six sons and daughters, Mrs. Chris Paulsen and Alfred Peterson, Antioch; Mrs. Russell Brumfield, Lake Villa; Mrs. Elmer Bownett, Mrs. Vernon Sorensen, Arthur Peterson, Waukegan; 18 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Meetings of American Legion Post No. 748 of Antioch will be suspended during the Christmas holidays, and will not be resumed until Thursday evening, Jan. 4.

Form Community Service Panel on Rationing Board

Tri-Township Group Co- operates in National Anti- Inflation Campaign

Mrs. W. W. Warner has been appointed chairman of the Community Service panel recently created on the Antioch-Grant-Lake Villa tri-township rationing board, with Mrs. William M. Marks and Mrs. Amos P. Bratrupe as co-members.

The purpose of the panel is to study local conditions, with a view to co-operating in a nation-wide campaign, being sponsored by the Office of Price Administration for the purpose of preventing post-war inflation.

The campaign is at present being centered around a grocer-consumer survey of price ceilings as applied to foodstuffs. However, it will also include clothing and other necessities.

In a message directed particularly toward men's clubs of the nation, the Office of Price Administration points out:

"Military victories do not immediately remove the dangers of inflation. More than one-third of the increase in the cost of living in the period of the last war occurred after the Armistice. In fact, during the 18 months after the Armistice the cost of living actually rose at a rate twice as fast as during the war itself."

"Because food takes 40 percent of the average family budget, it is a key factor in inflation. Rising food costs are reflected almost immediately in higher operating costs and in demands for higher wages."

"We still have a firm grip on our controls. However, so long as there are any wartime scarcities and so long as large parts of our income from war production heavy price pressures are a threat to both the general public and the food industry."

Antioch Masons and Eastern Star Install Officers

An impressive public ceremonial attended by Masons, members of their families and friends, Elroy K. Anderson was installed as worshipful master of Sequoit Lodge No. 827, A. F. and A. M., Tuesday evening.

Guy B. Simmons, past master of Millburn lodge, acted as installing officer.

The program included the Ode to the Flag, by Emil R. Lubkeman and vocal solos by Mrs. Elsie Hays, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. H. Kaufmann.

Frank West gave a number of accordion selections.

Refreshments were served in the dining room afterward, under the charge of wives of the Masons, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Walter Solomon is the retiring worshipful master of Sequoit lodge.

A special prayer observance honored members of the lodge who are in the armed service, including Laurel D. Powles, Russell G. Hunter, George W. Bartlett, F. Harry Willett, John V. Horton, William E. Schroeder, George O. Hawkins, Oliver G. Johnson, William Nielsen and Robert Brook.

100 at O. E. O. Event
Mrs. Helen A. Chapman was installed as worthy matron of the Antioch Eastern Star chapter to succeed Mrs. H. B. Gaston, in a ceremony held Saturday evening in the Masonic temple, with members and their friends to the number of 100 attending.

Richard W. Chapman was installed as worthy patron, succeeding Ralph Kinrade.

A social time and refreshments also followed the Eastern Star installation.

Mildred Horan and John F. Effinger United in Marriage

Miss Mildred Horan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Horan, 407 Orchard street, and John E. Effinger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Effinger, Lake Villa, were united in marriage in a quiet ceremony which took place in the chapel of Christ Episcopal church, Waukegan, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock with Dean Howard Ganster officiating.

The bridegroom, who holds the rating of electrician's mate third class in the navy, arrived home Dec. 9 on a 20-day furlough from sea duty.

Attending the couple were Miss Charlene Jorgensen, Antioch, and Howard Schneider, Lake Villa.

The bride wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Her bridesmaid was similarly costumed in blue, with a red corsage.

No Comparison

Two wars within a generation of each other have created tempting possibilities in the way of comparison that are constantly being held up to prove or disprove some point. Now we are beginning to be told the greatest danger from inflationary price increases can be expected near the end or shortly after the present war. As usual, for conclusive proof, the record of the last war is cited.

The assumption that because prices went up drastically after the last war, they will automatically do the same thing this time if preventive measures are not taken, is open to serious question. At the time of the last war, the technique of mass production had not hit full stride. And, comparatively speaking, distribution was still living in the dark ages. Both industry and distribution operate upon an entirely different principle than they did a quarter of a century ago.

Today the manufacturer knows that to be successful, he must keep the price of his product down—Henry Ford taught him that lesson. The same is true of distribution. The good retailer knows that if he is to meet competition, he must sell a large volume of goods at a reasonable price—the chain store taught him that lesson. And so, from manufacturer to consumer, the principle of production and distribution is the opposite of a few years ago. The maxim of "charging all the traffic will bear," has given way to the practice of charging as little as possible, while selling as much as possible. Science has taken the place of opportunism because, in the long run, it has proved more profitable.

If prices do go up it will not be due to the chicanery of producer or distributor. And the fact that they went up after the last war, has practically no bearing on the present. Mass production and mass distribution were little more than experiments in 1918.

Quality Depends On Conscience

Various reasons have been given for the deterioration of quality in the things being bought today in the nation's stores. When the war is over, the general belief seems to be that quality will come back as fast or faster than it disappeared. Labor and materials will be more abundant, and if production is high, the effects of high costs should be minimized. But is this all that is necessary to guarantee quality? It is not. Another important factor is competition. Where there is no competition, there is no incentive to quality.

The American standard of living reached unprecedented heights because production and distribution were carried on under a competitive system. No very long memory is needed to recall how before the war, the moving force back of the sale of every service and commodity was the appeal to the consumer's taste for quality. Maximum quality at minimum prices was and still is the goal of the worthy merchant who firmly believes that the day will come when competition, rather than OPA lawyers, will again rule his existence. This type of merchant is the backbone of the distribution system. And it is this type of merchant who advocates most strongly that wartime regulations restricting competition be relaxed as rapidly as possible. He realizes that in the long run high quality and good service cannot be maintained without the stimulating influence of competition.

If wartime rules over distribution are a necessary evil to be continued on into the peace indefinitely, we may as well make up our minds right now to do without quality in the merchandise we buy. Quality depends on conscience and competition. It can't be sold by the pound at a fixed price.

Turtle Dressing
Depending somewhat on the species and size, a turtle dresses from one to two-thirds of its live weight. The simplest and quickest method of dressing yields six portions of good, edible meat—the four quarters including the legs and surrounding muscles, the tail, and the neck. In more careful dressing two strips of meat under the back shell, called tenderloins, are also removed.

"Style Trends" Book Offers Preview of Post-War Housing

For families planning to build after the war, a new, inspiring book, "Style Trends," sheds light on many perplexing questions. It will interest particularly those who have been confused by conflicting ideas they have read or heard concerning postwar homes.

"Style Trends" is available to prospective home builders of this community at the Antioch Lumber and Coal company. According to Edmund Vos, owner of the company, the book is offered in the belief that home planners have a vital stake in getting authoritative facts on the kind of homes they are likely to build and own after the war.

In this book they will discover answers to such all-important questions as these: What are the facts about postwar architectural styles? Will there be radical changes from the traditional and loved designs of the past? What about new materials and new construction methods offered as cure-alls to all building problems?

"Style Trends" answers these questions, and many more. In beautiful color illustrations, it offers a preview of "homes of tomorrow." They are homes that families will instinctively see as the answers to their questions. In architectural design, they include the best and most popular of the historical styles, adapted and modified to meet present and future designs and needs.

Floor plans, for example, are scientifically laid out to save steps and time, and to provide adequate storage space. Yet every home shown is different, and subject to such further variations in treatment and features as individual family tastes and needs may indicate. Furthermore, the homes shown in "Style Trends" incorporate such new methods and materials as have proved worthy of being built in to permanent homes.

Thus, for those who have been confused almost to the point of despair by fantastic prophecies, "Style Trends" offers a solid foundation for their dream homes. It interprets what American families want and need in their homes and will help them stay abreast of the times.

Those who are planning new homes after the war may secure copies of "Style Trends" by calling at the offices of Antioch Lumber and Coal company, or phoning or writing this company.

A Christmas List of Lasting Gifts

Harry J. Krueger

AGENT

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

390 Lake Street

Phone 471

ONCE more Christmas approaches! A day for giving—gifts that symbolize affection and love! A shopping list of presents... anticipating the joy they will bring to the receiver... also the pleasure for the one who gives.

What shall my gifts be this year? How can they reflect my love and affection for the members of my family?

Since love is such a lasting thing... then surely my gifts should reflect this permanency.

A definite provision for their future security... assured fulfillment of their needs and ambitions... surely this would be a lasting remembrance... a symbol of love that reaches out and will follow them down through the years.

A shopping list of lasting gifts for the loved ones in your family is suggested in this ad.

FOR MOTHER—

Surely she deserves the finest gift of all! Why not the assurance of a life-time of security... release from anxiety... an assured monthly income down through the years if anything should happen to you?

FOR DAUGHTER

Does she desire a special career... a course perhaps in art or music... or maybe she is dreaming of a lovely wedding some day... Even a small sum would provide funds for graduation or birthday presents. She will be so proud of your thoughtfulness.

FOR SON

The assurance of a college education or funds to start him off in life. A policy that guarantees these opportunities for your boy will bring out a glad "Gee, Dad, you're swell!"

FOR DAD

Something for the "year-round" Santa Claus of the family! No matter how small, it will be deeply appreciated... an opportunity for the members of the family to cooperate in providing a modest nest-egg for Dad in later years.

AN EQUITABLE REPRESENTATIVE CAN TELL YOU OF THE NUMEROUS SERVICES THIS GREAT SOCIETY CAN PROVIDE FOR LASTING CHRISTMAS GIFTS THAT WILL FULFILL SUCH HAPPY PURPOSES.

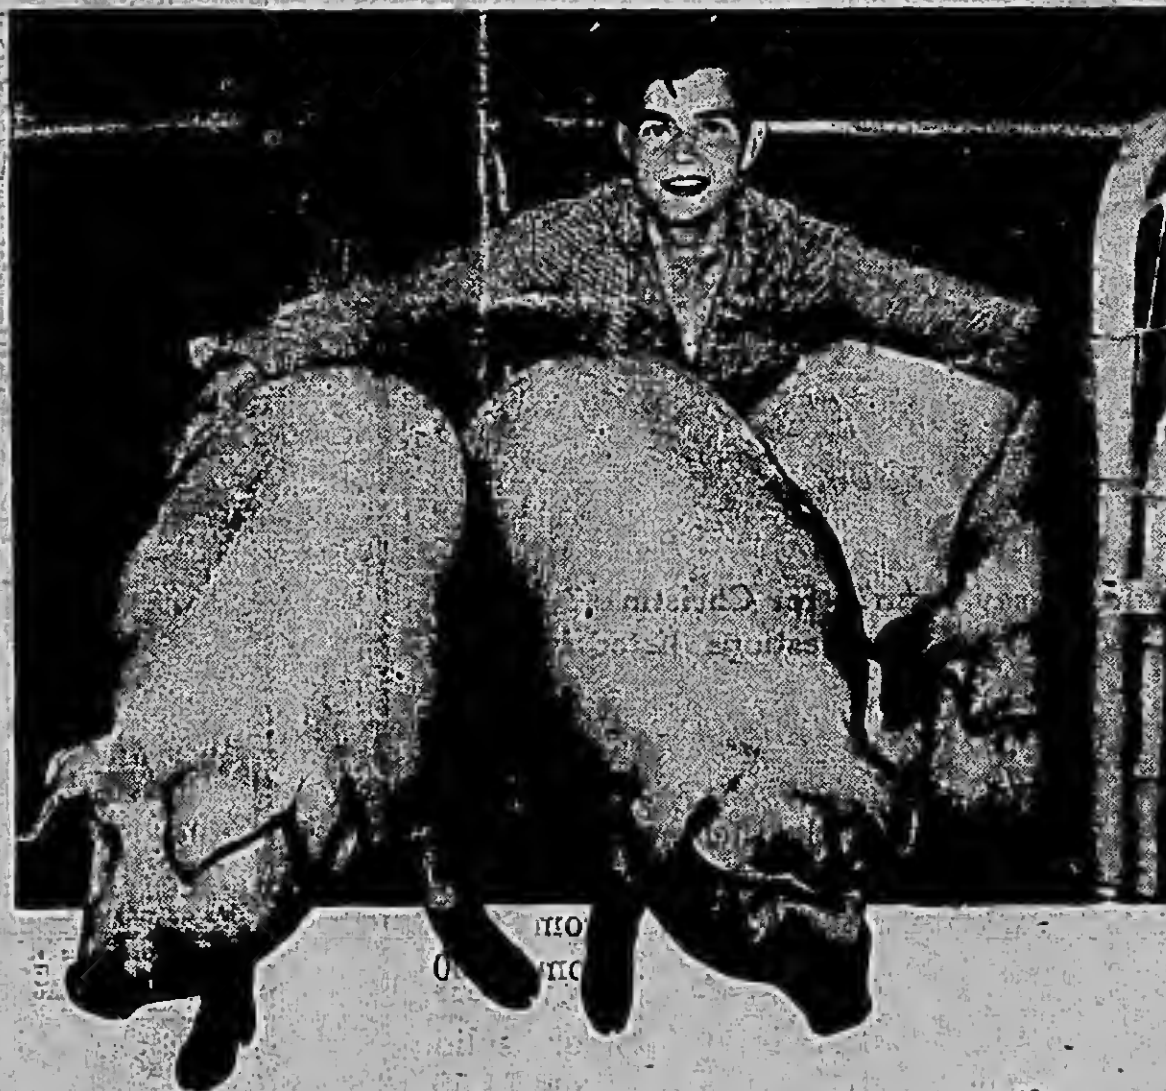

Congratulations and Cup are presented to Norman Jorstad, whose brooder-raised Chester Whites took 3 "Firsts" at the Chicago Junior Hog Show. In addition to having champion single hog, Norman won top honors in the pen of three and pen of five competition. B. F. Heide made the Pillsbury Award presentation.

ELECTRIC PIG-BROODERS gave my champion hogs a healthier start

says NORMAN JORSTAD,

Chicago Jr. Hog Show Winner

Good authority on hog raising is 16-year-old Norman Jorstad of Morris, who has a head full of pay-off ideas when it comes to producing money-making pigs.

"Good management, proper housing, balanced feeding, and plenty of care and work helped make my Chester Whites winners," says Norman, "but before these came the matter of saving them when they were farrowed—and that's where my home-made brooders came in. Brooders were just what I needed to get my baby pigs off to a healthier, flying start...to give them the protective warmth they needed during their first critical weeks. The more you eliminate the element of luck after pigs are born, the greater the number that will grow to maturity and be marketed."

Here are Plans for a low-cost, easy-to-make brooder that will provide both heat and a protected area for your baby pigs. Nail one or more of these brooders together now—be ready to cut pig losses resulting from killing cold or from baby pigs being lain on or trampled.

Christmas Seals

Purchase of Christmas seals during this holiday season can—and will make possible for the Lake County Tuberculosis Association a $21,000 x-ray unit on wheels.

That is the desire of the association of which Dr. E. H. Smith of Libertyville is president. Members of the board of directors are exerting their energies to make this year's seal sale the largest one yet to ensure the purchase of the best equipment possible to combat the disease in Lake county. Several other counties in the state have ordered the equipment to be used in their case-finding programs.

The Christmas Seal X-Ray unit will enable trained workers to take with them to schools, industrial plants and other large centers the equipment necessary to detect tuberculosis in its earliest stages and thus save many lives and long periods of lost earning power, according to Miss Orpha L. White, executive secretary of the association. Miss White has been working day and night since the seals went out ten days ago to make the 1944 sale so successful that the needed equipment can be obtained.

X-ray examination is recognized as the best means of detecting early pulmonary tuberculosis. In its early stages, this was a very expensive process, Miss White said, but by the use of miniature films produced by the photo-roentgen method, the work can be done at only a fraction of the cost of conventional radiography.

The unit the Lake county association would like to own has a compact arrangement for the photo-roentgen apparatus, dressing booths and a dark room. It can be moved indoors for greater convenience where large numbers of people are to be x-rayed.

The ambulatory unit takes its own power with it. This makes chest x-ray examinations available to people even in remote areas where there is inadequate electric power. A mobile power unit in the form of a small trailer is towed behind the outfit. This is a gasoline engine driven 25 kilowatt generator which deliver 230 volt, 60 cycle power. It carries its own 20-gallon gas tank which provides for about 20 hours of operation.

"While tuberculosis seems to be more prevalent in the crowded metropolitan areas, the disease is by no means a stranger in rural communities," Miss White said. "To achieve the maximum effectiveness of a tuberculosis control program, the means for diagnosis must be made available where people live."

In the 40 years since Christmas seals were first placed on sale, zealous workers in the fight against tuberculosis have reduced the death rate from the disease 75 per cent, Miss White said. However, tuberculosis invariably shows an increase during and after a war and if the excellent rec-

"Good In Unexpected Places" is the sermon topic chosen by the Rev. John De Vries for the worship service Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Lake Villa Community church. The Sunday school Christmas program is to be held Saturday evening, Dec. 23. The official board of the church held a business meeting in the B. J. Hooper home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weber spent a few days last week with friends near St. Louis, Mo. They returned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hellquist, S/Sgt. Kenneth Smith, home on furlough from overseas duty, and Mrs. Smith, of Waukegan; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Martin, Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, Libertyville, at dinner in their home Sunday.

Mrs. Dorothy Langheln entertained her sister-in-law from Chicago at her home Sunday.

ord of the past is to be maintained, the best equipment as well as the best educational means must be provided.

"If every one in Lake county who buys seals this year will purchase some extra ones, I am sure that our dream of owning an x-ray unit—to be operated by trained workers—will be realized," she said.

Workers Urged to Save Social Security Cards

High school boys and girls who have been working in business or industrial jobs during the summer are urged by Bernard Barnett, manager of the Waukegan office of the Social Security board, to take care of their social security account number cards.

"Students will need their cards again when they take other jobs during holidays, during next vacation, and throughout life," Barnett said. "The card is the key to an insurance policy with Uncle Sam and one number should be used by every worker throughout life. Wage credits, on which future benefits will be based, are posted to each worker's individual ledger sheet under both his name and number, since many people may have the same name but no two can have the same social security number. More than one number may cause some loss of the wage credits."

"It's patriotic to take care of the card. Thirteen bullets could be bought for the cost of issuing a duplicate."

PVT. JAMES HORTON WAS CHRISTMAS DINNER ANYWAY

Pvt. Horton left Sunday night for Camp Leonard Wood, Mo., where he is stationed.

Pvt. Stephen F. Ryzko, Jr., Woodcrest subdivision, is at Parris Island, S. C., with a Marine recruit battalion.
